

Asia-Pacific Dashboard Digest

A roundup of the top privacy news from the Asia-Pacific region

Cannataci, Pilgrim to speak during Privacy Week events

Asia-Pacific Dashboard Digest | Mar 17, 2016

The U.N.'s Special Rapporteur for the Right to Privacy Joseph Cannataci will provide two keynote speeches during the New Zealand Privacy Commissioner's Privacy Forums in Wellington and Auckland this May, the agency said in a statement. Cannataci "is the world's first privacy investigator at this international level," the release states. "He was appointed by the United Nations to the newly created position last year." Also speaking during the week — specifically at the Auckland Privacy Forum — will be Australian Acting Information Commissioner Timothy Pilgrim. Registration for the events is now open.

Full Story

---

Comments

If you want to comment on this post, you need to login.